

AEQUITAS NEO EXCHANGE INC.

DATA FEE SCHEDULE

1. Introduction

All fees in this fee schedule are payable in Canadian dollars and per month, unless otherwise specified¹, and are governed by the Aequitas NEO Exchange Inc. (“NEO Exchange”) data agreement (“Data Agreement”). Any Data Recipient may request invoicing in U.S. dollars, in which case the average exchange rate published by the Bank of Canada for the period covered by the invoice will be applied. Capitalized words and phrases used but not defined in this document have the respective meanings given to them in the Data Agreement.

This document provides information about all fees applicable to subscribing to and/or distributing market data from NEO Exchange. These fees apply to the legal entity that has signed the Data Agreement and its named Affiliates, and does not include connectivity fees (which are governed by the NEO Exchange connectivity services agreement) for those entities that connect directly to the exchange. In the case of data distributors, they are responsible for reporting usage and will be subject to the fees in this document on behalf of their clients. For any details around usage and reporting requirements please refer to the NEO Exchange Data Instructions (“Data Instructions”).

Unless otherwise specified, all Level 2 fees include both Level 2 and Level 1 data. Any client that subscribes to data from either NEO-L or NEO-N would also be entitled to post-trade information from the Crossing Facility and NEO-D. All fees are differentiated between NEO listed securities and Other Traded Securities (securities listed on other exchanges).

2. Display Fees

Display fees apply when real-time NEO Exchange Data is used in a display on a device (e.g. a data display application, a trading application, etc.) by an individual user. Note that NEO Exchange offers a MISU (Multiple Installation Single User) approach, allowing Data to be displayed on multiple devices for the same individual user, within a legal entity, without incurring additional fees.²

Display fees are differentiated based on whether the user is a Professional User, Retail-Professional User, or Non-Professional User³ and from which trading books that user is subscribing for data. Display fees for internal users are reported by and invoiced to the Data Recipient without a distribution fee. Display fees for users at Affiliates or external parties (Data Clients) are reported by and invoiced to the Data Recipient as a data distributor (see section 4).

5. Data Feed Fees

The NEO Exchange charges a monthly access fee per physical location⁵ receiving real-time NEO Data indirectly via a distributor in feed format. Fees apply per feed source and location, and the total fee will be determined by the number of unique locations being reported to the NEO Exchange by data distributors for delivery of NEO data to the Data Recipient and its Affiliates.

	LEVEL 1	LEVEL 2
Primary Data Feed	$250	$750
Additional Data Feeds	$150	$150

6. Reporting Requirements

Each Data Recipient is responsible for reporting its usage of Data on a monthly basis. For approved Data Recipients with non-display usage that is unlikely to change during the year, an annual report can be submitted every January. In this case, the onus will be on the Data Recipient to notify the NEO Exchange of any change in usage. In the event the Data Recipient acts as a data distributor, it is also responsible for reporting the usage for any Data that is distributed to its Data Clients.⁶ For details about the reporting requirements, please see the Data Instructions.

⁵For further information, please see the Data Instructions.

⁶This does not preclude the scenario where a Data Client has signed a separate Data Agreement and is responsible for reporting its usage over and above the usage through the distributor.
